The 2015/16 school year budget of $392K is funded by the generosity of many. Thank you to each of our generous donors for making Heart's work possible!

“ Students use math as a starting point to have confidence to be the best that they can be. Heart lessens my workload, and I can trust that the kids are getting what they need. ”

2015/16 Volunteer Recruitment

Heart's 2015 Volunteer Drive was successful thanks to the help of many. 440 volunteers signed up to be weekly tutors with Heart, far exceeding the goal of 385. We welcomed back 170 tutors returning for another year!

Of the new tutors,

- ▶ One third heard from a friend,
- ▶ One third heard through their employer,
- ▶ 20% heard through community organization or church,
- ▶ and 20% heard through the internet, news, or other PR.

Many organizations hosted lunches and/or presentations in support of Heart's tutor recruitment efforts. We'd like to thank: Wells Fargo, Wake Forest University, McGuireWoods, Womble Carlyle Sandridge & Rice, Bank of America, Patterson Pope, Amec Foster Wheeler, St. John's Baptist Church, Global Endowment Management, Pamlico Capital, South Park Rotary Club, The Charlotte Woman's Club, and Selwyn Avenue Presbyterian Church for partnership on finding tutors.

Heart Theory of Change

Heart is the link between students who need one-on-one academic support and volunteers who can help. The impacts are far-reaching.
