

September 21st, 2020

Dear Parent/Guardian,

We hope that you and your loved ones are safe and well. We know this is an incredibly challenging time for our community and our world. While health and essential needs remain the top priority, Heart Math Tutoring is committed to continuing student educational support.

Heart Tutoring is a Charlotte-based nonprofit that provides free math tutoring for 30 minutes twice per week. Volunteers and students use a research-based curriculum with the support of a Heart staff person.

To continue providing this service, we are offering to facilitate virtual tutoring via video conferencing software to tutor students virtually. Sessions will be scheduled twice a week during the school day and can be accessed on a phone, tablet, or computer.

We recommend that families help their children prepare for sessions but do not require supervision during the sessions. That said, the decision to participate in this program is completely up to your child and you. If you decide to allow your child to participate, he/she may stop at any time.

If you would like your child to participate in Heart Tutoring's virtual program, please submit our virtual sign-up form. After completing the form, you will be contacted by the Heart Tutoring team with next steps.

We are very hopeful we can connect with your students to continue supporting them as they strengthen their foundational math skills. Please let us know if you have any comments, questions, or concerns.

Best,

The Heart Math Tutoring Team

families@hearttutoring.org